Dayspring Magazine

Dayspring is the Bahá'í children's magazine for the UK.

All registered children between the ages of 5 and 13 are entitled to receive a family copy. There are some children who are not registered and are therefore missing out. Even if your children are not registered with the National Sub-Office, they can still receive Dayspring. Just write to the editor, giving their name, address and age.

Dayspring is also sent to children's class teachers. If you are a teacher and would like to be on the mailing list, please get in touch. If you are not included in these categories, but would like Dayspring anyway, you can subscribe by sending a cheque for £10 to the editor, made payable to "The National Spiritual Assembly of the Bahá'ís of the UK".

This year's Daysprings were compilations of material published during the 4 year Plan. If you missed them - don't despair - five of them are available from Sapling Publications at the same address.

The Editor of Dayspring is always looking for child-friendly stories, poems, articles and illustrations, so if you would like to see your material published please contact the Dayspring editor,
